Dear Colleague,

Re: GP half day study day for the Cancer & Haematology Centre

As part of a programme for improving communication and information sharing between ORH medical staff and GPs, we are planning to hold a series of interactive half day study days. Initially we are planning to hold four each year on a range of topics to highlight service developments, clinical changes and new facilities across the Trust.

The first session will be held in the Cancer & Haematology Centre at the Churchill Hospital on Wednesday 7 October, 2009 from 1-4pm. The programme is listed below and we hope you will be able to join us.

1.00 pm	Sandwich lunch provided
1.35 pm	Welcome and introduction	-	Andrew Stevens, Director of Planning & Information
1.45 pm	CPD	-	Dr Honor Merriman, GP tutor
1.50 pm	Overview of the cancer centre	-	Dr Chris Alcock, Consultant Clinical Oncology
2.20 pm	Imaging	-	Dr Fergus Gleeson, Consultant Radiologist
2.40 pm	Haematology	-	Dr Chris Hatton, Consultant Haematologist
3.00pm	Upper/lower GI cancer	-	Dr Chris Cunningham, Consultant Colorectal Surgery
3.20 pm	Tour of new cancer centre	-	Dr Chris Alcock
4.00 pm	Close

A map of the Churchill Hospital site is attached. Parking is available either in the pay & display car park near the front entrance of the new Cancer Centre or, there may be several complimentary spaces available (marked with green lines) in front of the Wytham Wing.

A sandwich lunch will be provided and therefore we would be grateful if you could confirm your attendance either by email to adele.vinall@orh.nhs.uk or 01865 221745 by no later than Friday 25 September, 2009.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely

Andrew Stevens
